

Norfolk Gardens Trust Journal Spring 2000

- Contents
- Chairman's Viewpoint
Roger Last sees a gardening challenge for the new century
- Restoration of the Walled Garden at Houghton
Paul Underwood explains how the new garden development in this famous Norfolk estate came into being
- Millenium Perennial Garden at Pensthorpe
Piet Oudolf describes his approach to the planting of the new garden at Pensthorpe Wildfowl Trust
- The Millenium Lake - Raveningham
A lake has been added to this important Norfolk Garden.
Sir Nicholas Bacon reveals some of the thinking behind it
- Sir Robert Walpole's Garden at Houghton
By the time this new mansion was complete in the early 1730's Britain's first Prime Minister did not have to wait for a garden. It was already there. David Yaxley explains
- Beauty in Utility
Dr Elise Percifull looks at the influence of the Arts and Crafts style on Norfolk gardens
- Mountains out of Molehills
Roger Last finds a surprising cache - hill gardens in Norfolk
- Garden Pests?
Gardens and children incompatible? Lucy Owen-Johnstone argues the case for an early integration
- Book Review
John Mixer discovers an unlikely source of garden inspiration
- NGT Events - 2000
- The Trust's Committee