Four Norfolk Unforgettable Gardens in the Spotlight!

Since last Summer, the Gardens Trust has been running Wednesday evening Zoom talks, entitled Unforgettable Gardens. County gardens trusts and other organisations have been helping to present each week's featured garden. In September it is Norfolk's turn, with talks on:

Sept 8: Houghton Hall – Prof. Tom Williamson on the history of the parkland and the Walpole family and Head Gardeners, Richard & Rosie Ernst on Houghton's Walled Garden.

Sept 15: The Venetian Waterways – Project director of the Gt. Yarmouth Preservation Trust, Darren Barker, will tell us about their conception and recent restoration programme.

Sept 22: The Plantation Garden – Dr. Lesley Kant Cunneen on the garden's history and amazing restoration story by volunteers.

Sept 29: Sandringham – Head Gardener, Martin Woods shares his 4-decades of working in the gardens and how the team look after them today.

The talks are open to everybody to buy a ticket and listen live at 7pm, and speakers will take questions at the end. The recordings will be sent out shortly afterwards and be available for a week after each talk.

The normal ticket prices are: £5.00 per talk or £16 for all four in the Norfolk series, but members of NGT have a specially discounted price of £2.50 per talk and £8 for the full series.

NGT member Stuart Beard has taken some wonderful drone photography which we hope to show as part of the talks' presentations.

How to book and claim your NGT 50% discount on ticket price.
